NEW-YORK, THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 8.

LATER FROM PERU .- By an arrival at Baltimore, the Journal of Commerce has received Lima papers to the 1st g May, and a letter dated the 6th. The revolution com-If May, and a letter dated the 6th. The revolution compensed by Gen. Vivanco, having for its object the overthrow of President Gamarra's administration, has been suppressed, and Vivanco has field to Bolivia. A decree of the Government, dated April 23th, continued the extraordinary powers ganted to the Executive on the 11th of February for two months longer. The revolution has, however, been completely suppressed. It is said that Gen. Gamarra intends to make war against Bolivia, and also that Gen. Santa Cruz is hreatening to march from the Equator upon the North of Peru. The Peruvian market is overstocked with foreign goods and produce, and all business is stagnant. With reference to the defeat of Vivanco, the letter of the Journal gives the following particulars:

"Cel. Vivanco proclaimed himself Supreme Chief of Peru in Arequipa on the 4th of January, and was immediately recained by the departments of Cusco and Puno, thus giving him possession of about half the country and more than half of the army; but on the 16th of January, Gen. San Roman, who juned in the revolution and was made Prefect of Cusco, with the garrison of that city, amounting to 1,000 men, delared against Vivanco, which gave the superiority to the Government; notwithstanding, Vivanco succeeded in increasing his remaining force to 2,600 men, with which he occupited Areguipa, when Gen. Castilla, with some troops from Lima and the garrison of Cusco, in ull about 2,000 men, advanced. senced by Gen. Vivanco, having for its object the overthrow and the garrison of Cusco, in all about 2,000 men, advanced apon that city and took up a strang position at Cachanarca, is which he was attacked on the 25th of March by Vivanco, ed completely routed without the loss of many lives on ather side; but the loss in prisoners and desertion reduced Col. Vivanco, after adding the Castilla's force to 800 menisoners to his arsty, found himself at the head of nearly $500 men, which he divided into two divisions, one of which, nder the command of Col. Ugarteche, consisting of 2,100, narched into the interior with a view to prevent the rereat of Castilla upon Cusco, while the other, commanded by President (Gen. Gamarra), who embarked at Callao on the 20th of March with 1,000 men. The division of Ugarteche arrived at Cuevillas, about 30 leagues from Arequipa on the Casco road, on the morning of the 30th of March; as he was preparing to march, Castilla, with his 500 men, appeared in sight, and, finding his retreat cut off, attacked and routed Ugarteche, whose whole division dispersed, having been completely surprised in open day. Col. Vivanco, on being informed of this disaster, abandoned his troops and flew for safety to Belivia; soon after which his men dispersed, leaving Gamarra again in quiet possession of the country.

Mere of the HARVEST .- The weather could not be mere favorable for the ripening of wheat, and better ordered so as to prevent its being affected by rust, than it now is. We have had abundance of rain, the air is clear and cool, the sun shines brightly from morning till night, and most of our latest exchange papers in Western New-York say that there will be full an average crop. [Buff. Com. Adv. July 1.

Notwithstanding the extreme drought of the early part of the season, and the reported ravages of the army worm, the tanker worm, and the flu, there is now a good prospect for a fair average of crops throughout the State. The heads of outs and wheat will be much larger and better filled than in fermer years, and consequently the grain will be of much intr quality than last year. From present appearances the ora crop will be fully equal to that of former years.

[Cleveland (O.) Herald, July 1.

Information from reliable sources satisfies us that gross error prevails more or less Westward, respecting the crops Western New-York. A stranger might be almost tempted. from such stories, to imagine that this wheat-growing region of the Genesee would be compelled to depend for bread on the Lake country Westward. It is a duty to the people here, is well as elsewhere, to correct such ridiculous stories. We Wain repeat that the wheat crop of the 'Genesee Country, as well as the coarser grains, will fully equal an average crop. [Roch. Eve. Post, July 3.

la this county grass and spring grain will be light, having suffered so long from drought—but corn generally looks well, and promises a good crop. [Sackett's Harb. Jour., July 2.

THE CROPS .- Considerable anxiety is felt, as is usual at his season of the year, about the state of the coming crops. lathis county as far as we have seen and our information hey promise to be very fine, particularly the wheat, which is about as good as it has been in several years. The ecent rains we have had, with the warm weather, have also brought forward the cats, barley and grass at such a rate that they promise a very abusdant yield. The corn and potatoes are also coming on finely. [Poughkeepsie Eagle.

The Wheat Harvest has commenced in this quarter of the country, and the farmers are favored with day a warm sun. If this weather will but continue for a few days longer, the wheat crop will be secured under the most favorable circumstances. [Petersburg (Va.) Intel., July 1.

To Meeting of Mechanics on the State Prison Monopoly.—A very large and respectable meeting was held at the Apolio, Broadway, on the 25th of Jane. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following gratienen as officers for the evening :—For President, Alderman Joseph N. Barnes, for Vice Presidents, Daniel Berrian, Hezekish W. Bonnel, Alexander Denney, Alderman Daniel C. Pentz, Ger. Daniel Lee, John Wuydell; for Secretaries, Gilbert Smith and G. Q. Collon.

On motion, Mesers, John Commerford, Elbridge G. Baldwin, and John Wuydell, were selected to grepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. During the absence of the committee, Joseph P. Simpson, Eq. aidressed the meeting. The committee Saxing returned, presented the following presamble and resolutions, which were cannot be maintained that the system which secures the labor of two thousand convicts to speculative contractors at 25 cents per day, while housest mechanics employed at the same branches (before broken down by the ruin which is the inevitable result of this disparity of prices) receive the average of one dollar and twenty-five cents per day, or the dualy difference of $2.00 or the annual and algraining sum of $580,000 below that which would be the vearly income of two thousand industrious citizens—it surely requires more than an ordinary degree of presuseption to say that such a system is not widely at variance with that cementing principle which our republical constitution throws around the humblest citizen, making inin feel that he has the co-equal privilege and the power to call for the exact observance of his rights, and that the government was made for him, not he for the government.

Prisons of the State, in either of the several invehanical operations now carried on in such Prisons, beyond what is required for the support of such Prisons in the judgement of the respective agents thereof, without yielding any revenue to the State; and such contracts shall cease to be made or reaswed from time to time whenever the said Prisons or either of them can be supported by the proceeds of the manufactures mentioned in the first section of this act.

Thus it will be seen that the judgement [if not the avarice] of the agent must be consulted before any alteration can take place; it is here where the dishonesty of the recommendation is developed, for it is not suppossible that he who lives and thrives by the continuance of the system will aid in its destruction. Of a like subterfage is the proposition that am alteration shall be made when disinterested agents see fit to declare that the income defrays the expenses of the Prisons. We may judge of the sincerity of the mitires of the authors of the above proposition, when we know that these men were in possession of the knowledge that it was in contemplation to evert additional buildings at the different Prisons, and that every year but swells their expenses, and that we shall never enjoy the completion of our hopes by so delusive and equivocal a process.

Sith, Resolved, That as we have for years petitioned the Legislature for relief from this unjust system, and have petitisned in vain we are fally convinced that our only remedy is to select practical mechanics to represent mechanics in our Legislature, and as the best means of securing a union of mechanics between the State on tais subject, we recommend that a State Convention of Mechanics be held, at such time and place as may be recommended by the mechanics of the cities of Albany, Troy, &c.

Sith, Resolved, That the delegates selected at this meeting, to attend
